Learning Objectives
At the end of this seminar, participants will be able to:
1. Describe the differences between clinical and forensic assessment.
2. Identify important legal and ethical issues regarding informed consent.
3. Define the concept of functional legal capacities.
4. Describe the necessary modifications of traditional psychological testing in forensic settings.
5. Identify new developments and cautions in the use of trauma assessment and assessment of malingering.

Seminar Schedule
This seminar runs from 1-4:15 PM Eastern Time.

How To Register:
On-Line at tzkseminars.com
Register On-Line for only $59

The Presenter
Dr. David Shapiro has been called the Father of clinical forensic psychology. His first book on forensic assessment appeared in 1983 and was the only book at that time to approach forensic assessment from the point of view of actual issues encountered in practice rather than from a theoretical basis. Since that time, he has authored five more textbooks and four dozen peer reviewed articles dealing with the interface of psychology and law. His comprehensive approach to forensic assessment has been widely distributed and used as models for various books and training programs.

Dr. Shapiro is a Diplomate in Forensic Psychology of the American Board of Professional Psychology and has been actively engaged in forensic practice for over forty years. He is currently a Professor of psychology at Nova Southeastern University and teaches courses in forensic assessment, criminal law, ethics and professional practice, supervision and consultation, projective personality assessment, and risk assessment for future violence. He regularly provides forensic and ethics training at a variety of national forums, including APA and ABPP.

General Information
The TZKseminars educational planning committee members and this seminar’s presenter have no relationship with a commercial interest pertinent to the content of this seminar.

Individuals with a disability or special need can go to tzkseminar.com to the Contact page to request accommodations.

This seminar has been reviewed and approved by Keith Hannan, PhD, Phil Rich, LICSW, and Loreen Yerrick, MSN, RN. This approval expires on March 1, 2022. To cancel a registration, go to the Contact page: You will be charged $30 for any cancelled registration. If you would like to file a grievance, go to tzkseminars.com and read our Grievance Policy. Then, you can file a grievance on our Contact page. You can also send a written grievance to:

TZKseminars
6030 Daybreak Circle, Suite 1750/355
Clarksville, Md. 21029

The Presenter

The Presenter

Dr. David Shapiro has been called the Father of clinical forensic psychology. His first book on forensic assessment appeared in 1983 and was the only book at that time to approach forensic assessment from the point of view of actual issues encountered in practice rather than from a theoretical basis. Since that time, he has authored five more textbooks and four dozen peer reviewed articles dealing with the interface of psychology and law. His comprehensive approach to forensic assessment has been widely distributed and used as models for various books and training programs.

Dr. Shapiro is a Diplomate in Forensic Psychology of the American Board of Professional Psychology and has been actively engaged in forensic practice for over forty years. He is currently a Professor of psychology at Nova Southeastern University and teaches courses in forensic assessment, criminal law, ethics and professional practice, supervision and consultation, projective personality assessment, and risk assessment for future violence. He regularly provides forensic and ethics training at a variety of national forums, including APA and ABPP.

General Information

The TZKseminars educational planning committee members and this seminar’s presenter have no relationship with a commercial interest pertinent to the content of this seminar.

Individuals with a disability or special need can go to tzkseminar.com to the Contact page to request accommodations.

This seminar has been reviewed and approved by Keith Hannan, PhD, Phil Rich, LICSW, and Loreen Yerrick, MSN, RN. This approval expires on March 1, 2022. To cancel a registration, go to the Contact page: You will be charged $30 for any cancelled registration. If you would like to file a grievance, go to tzkseminars.com and read our Grievance Policy. Then, you can file a grievance on our Contact page. You can also send a written grievance to:

TZKseminars
6030 Daybreak Circle, Suite 1750/355
Clarksville, Md. 21029